

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK — NEW YORK COUNTY

PRESENT: PAULA J. OMANSKY

PART 47

Justice

0104349/1999

WILSON, ROGER W., JR.
vs
DICAPRIO, LEONARDO

INDEX NO. _____

MOTION DATE 7/16/04

MOTION SEQ. NO. _____

MOTION CAL. NO. 8

SEQ 13

SUMMARY JUDGMENT

The following papers, numbered 1 to _____ were read on this motion to/for _____

MOTION/CASE IS RESPECTFULLY REFERRED TO JUSTICE FOR THE FOLLOWING REASON(S):

Notice of Motion/ Order to Show Cause — Affidavits — Exhibits ...

Answering Affidavits — Exhibits _____

Replying Affidavits _____

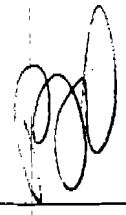

PAPERS NUMBERED

Cross-Motion: Yes No

Upon the foregoing papers, it is ordered that this motion and cross motion are decided in accordance with the accompanying memorandum decision

FILED
SEP 29 2004
NEW YORK
COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE

Dated: 9/23/04

Check one: FINAL DISPOSITION NON-FINAL DISPOSITION

J.S.C.

Check if appropriate: DO NOT POST

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK COUNTY OF NEW YORK: IAS PART 47

-----X
ROGER WILSON, JR.

Plaintiff,

-against-

LEONARD DICAPRIO, JAY FERGUSON, KEVIN CONNELLY, VINCENT LARESCA, KAREN TENZER, ASIA DE CUBA
RESTAURANT, INC. TODD HEALY and JOHN DOES 2 THROUGH 4, WHOSE NAMES ARE UNKNOWN

Defendants.

-----X
ASIA DE CUBA RESTAURANT,

Third-party plaintiff,

-against-

GSS SECURITIES SERVICES, INC.

Third-party defendant.

-----X
PAULA J. OMANSKY, J.:

In this action for assault, battery and related claims, defendant Asia De Cuba Restaurant Inc. moves for summary judgment and to dismiss the complaint and all remaining cross claims on the ground that there is no evidence that the restaurant served alcoholic beverages to any visibly intoxicated person.

Defendants DiCaprio, and Kevin Connelly, and Jay Ferguson cross-move for summary judgment and to dismiss the complaint and all cross claims.

FACTS

On March 2, 1998, plaintiff Roger W. Wilson Jr. and his actress girlfriend, Elizabeth Berkley, a non-party, were invited by a publicist to attend the opening premier of Mr. DiCaprio's latest film, "The Man in the Iron Mask," at New York's Zigfield Theater. Defendants Kevin Connelly and Jay Ferguson both actors, were also invited to the screening, and were introduced to Ms. Berkley. Mr. Ferguson was attracted to Ms. Berkley.

Plaintiff and Ms. Berkley were also invited to attend the party held after the showing. While plaintiff was mingling with other guests, defendant Karen Tenzer¹ allegedly approached Ms. Berkley and asked her to join Mr. DiCaprio and his actor friend, defendant Jay Ferguson, at another party at Elaine's Restaurant. Ms. Berkley politely declined.

On March 3, 1998, just before midnight, Ms. Berkley's telephone rang. Plaintiff alleges that defendants DiCaprio and Ferguson had urged Ms. Tenzer to call Ms. Berkley at her home, which she shares with plaintiff. Defendants DiCaprio and Ferguson allegedly placed several calls to Ms. Berkley's telephone pager asking Berkley to meet them at the Asia De Cuba Restaurant later that evening without her boy friend. According to plaintiff, these calls were harassing and continued until midnight, March 3, 1998. At midnight, Ms. Berkley received an urgent message from Ms. Tenzer's assistant who stated that "Karen needs you immediately." Worried, Ms. Berkley returned that call, only to be berated by Ms. Tenzer or her assistant for refusing the alleged solicitations of Mr. DiCaprio and Mr. Ferguson. Ms. Berkley immediately ended the conversation and informed plaintiff of the incident.

¹Plaintiff has discontinued the action against Ms. Tenzer.

According to plaintiff, his girl friend was visibly upset, crying and shaking. Plaintiff asked the reason. Ms. Berkley allegedly stated to plaintiff that Karen Tenzer's assistant had "launched into her" for not returning the ten or so telephone messages from Ms. Tenzer and defendants DiCaprio and Ferguson, and threatened her career.

Plaintiff then called Ms. Tenzer twice. Both times the woman who responded hung up. Plaintiff called a third time and asked for Ferguson. The woman who answered asked who was calling for Mr Ferguson, and plaintiff answered "Elizabeth Berkley." After a moment, a man's voice said "Hey baby, been waiting for your call," to which plaintiff asked, "Is this Jay Ferguson," to which the male voice answered, "Yeah."

Plaintiff then identified himself and reminded Ferguson that they met the prior evening. Plaintiff related to Ferguson that his girlfriend was upset and demanded that Ferguson stop calling her. Ferguson started cursing at plaintiff and allegedly told him, "If you don't want us to call your house come down here and tell us."

After ending his call to Ferguson, plaintiff got dressed, and told Ms. Berkley that he was going down to the Asia De Cuba Restaurant to reprimand Ms. Tenzer for giving out Ms. Berkley's telephone number and to tell defendants DiCaprio and Ferguson to stop harassing him and Ms. Berkley.

Plaintiff went inside the Asia de Cuba Restaurant where he allegedly found defendants DiCaprio, Ferguson, Kevin Connelly, Vincent Laresca², and other persons. According to plaintiff, Kevin Francis, a non-party, and an employee of the GSS Security Company, Inc. ("GSS Security," a non-party) was working security at the door of the restaurant.

Plaintiff entered the restaurant, saw the security guard (Mr. Francis) and informed him that he was there to see Mr. DiCaprio and that it would be very brief.

Plaintiff approached the defendants and demanded to know why Ms. Tenzer was giving his home number to Mr. DiCaprio and Mr. Ferguson. Mr. Ferguson continued his tirade telling plaintiff "its time for you and me to go outside." Plaintiff states that he ignored Mr. Ferguson's insults and said "[y]ou told me to come down here to tell you not to call my family. I'm here. Don't call my family." Plaintiff alleges that he warned defendants that he would call the police if the calls persisted. Plaintiff alleges that he decided to leave, turned away, and began to walk out of the restaurant.

Mr. Ferguson testified that plaintiff came up to the table and that words passed between them. When someone suggested that he (Ferguson) and plaintiff go outside, both men agreed.

The security guard Francis states that he heard a loud commotion and went back to the table where defendants were seated to find out what the commotion was. Mr. Francis testified that "the words had already been exchanged, and he [plaintiff] was turning to walk out."

²Plaintiff has discontinued the case against Mr. Laresca.

As plaintiff was leaving the restaurant, Mr. Francis testified that he saw another young man (Caucasian, approximately six feet tall, thin, clean-cut, nice-looking with dark hair) walk up to and stand next to Mr. DiCaprio. This tall young man was dressed more conservatively than the other young men at the table, who were all wearing baggy jeans. Mr. Francis also described the man as wearing a big fur hat and goatee. In addition, Mr. Francis stated that the man "was wearing something like a polo shirt, a jockey shirt."

Although he did not know the identity of the man, Mr. Francis testified that he knew the man to be part of defendant DiCaprio's entourage since he had always seen this individual with Mr. DiCaprio on each of the several occasions he saw defendant DiCaprio at the Asia de Cuba Restaurant. According to Mr. Francis, he observed the tall young man and Mr. DiCaprio having a conversation. Security guard Francis, who was only a foot or two away from defendant DiCaprio, overheard defendant DiCaprio say to the tall young man "Go out there and kick his ass."

Mr. Ferguson claims that he did not hear Mr. DiCaprio's statement to the man with the goatee since he had already left the table to go outside.

The tall man left the table and followed plaintiff out of the restaurant. Mr. Francis then turned to walk out to the front of the restaurant and returned to his security post at the front door. After he reached the door, Mr. Francis later saw a group of people gathered outside the door of Asia De Cuba Restaurant.

Events Outside of the Restaurant

Plaintiff states that after he went outside, he saw defendants Laresca, Connelly, and five to six other men come out of the restaurant. Mr. DiCaprio allegedly followed directly behind his friends.

Plaintiff states that Ferguson, Laresca, Connelly and the other men encircled him, threatening and taunting him. According to plaintiff, defendants Ferguson and Connelly kept challenging plaintiff to fight, yelling at him to "throw a punch, throw a punch or we'll kick your f----in' ass."

According to plaintiff, Mr. DiCaprio also came out of the restaurant, accompanied by two security guards.

According to plaintiff, DiCaprio, who had a drink in one hand and a cigarette in the other, joined co-defendants Ferguson and Connelly in the semi-circle of men surrounding plaintiff. Defendant Ferguson kept looking at plaintiff and saying, "throw a punch," to which plaintiff cursed in return and responded, "I will not throw a punch, but if you strike me, I will defend myself." Defendant Connelly, who was also holding a drink in his hand, put his drink down and took off his glasses, and said to plaintiff and the crowd, "I'll go and kick this mother f---er's ass myself."

At this point, Ms. Tenzer exited the restaurant holding her cellular telephone up in the air. Ms. Tenzer called to plaintiff, "Roger, Roger I can explain."

As plaintiff turned left toward Ms. Tenzer, he felt a hard punch to the right side of his throat. The blow landed on plaintiff's Adam's apple, allegedly damaging plaintiff's larynx and other internal organs³. Plaintiff maintains that he doubled over in pain and that he was unable to breathe due to the swelling in his throat.

Plaintiff looked to see who had struck him and saw a young man standing over him, who was wearing a flannel shirt and jeans and had short hair. When he was standing over plaintiff, this assailant, now known to be defendant Todd Healy, shouted "I'm going to f---ing kill this mother f---er." Mr. Connelly, Mr. Ferguson and other men grabbed the assailant, Mr. Healy, cursing at him, "You stupid asshole." As plaintiff tried to rise from the ground, Mr. Laresca allegedly grabbed plaintiff and told him, "Roger, stay down, this guy is a killer, he'll kill you." Mr. Healy again tried to lunge for plaintiff. Plaintiff put his fists up and defendant Connelly and a few other men grabbed defendant Healy.

Mr. Connelly admits that he invited Healy to join him at the restaurant but maintains that the invitation was extended solely because the former had not seen the latter in a long time, had known that Healy was going to college in Manhattan, and had wanted to see him. Mr. Connelly stated that he told Healy that he was not sure when the group would be going to dinner but to look for him at the Asia De Cuba Restaurant if he (Connelly) was not in his room at the hotel. According to Connelly, Ferguson and plaintiff were "squaring off" -- both had their fists up and were standing approximately four feet away from each other when he exited the restaurant to go outside. Connelly also testified that Mr Ferguson and plaintiff were taking turns yelling at one another challenging each other to hit first. Connelly states that plaintiff also challenged him and Vincent Laresca to fight. Connelly states that he did not see the actual blow to plaintiff's neck since he walked away from the plaintiff soon after Mr. Healy came up to the group.

³Plaintiff's injuries are alleged to include a severe hematoma to plaintiff's right vocal cords and right sinus region, and extreme tenderness to the tracheal rings of the neck. Follow-up medical examinations allegedly revealed that the nodules along the edge of plaintiff's vocal cords have thickened and become enlarged. This condition allegedly impedes the closure of the vocal cords and interferes with phonation and singing. Plaintiff maintains that he must undergo surgery to have these nodules removed.

Mr. Healy states that he was invited by Mr. Connelly to go to the Asia De Cuba Restaurant. According to Healy, he never went inside the Asia De Cuba Restaurant. When he arrived at the scene, Healy testified that he saw a crowd outside the restaurant, heard Mr. Connelly telling plaintiff to leave and saw a guy with a wool hat being loud and hostile and saying "Who wants it?" and Kevin [Connelly] was in front of him like I guess trying to talk to him, and Jay [Ferguson] was behind him and I walked over and told the guy to calm down and relax.

I just walked across. I didn't know what was going on, I just walked across the street and I said "Calm Down." He cocked back his hand and I proceeded to hit him on the jaw line.

(Healy, 10/30/2001 EBT at 74 (lines 16 to 25) to 75 (lines 1-2)).

Plaintiff further alleges that, during the time of the altercation outside the restaurant, Mr. DiCaprio had moved inside the lobby, and was behind a large glass facade of the Morgans Hotel which was adjacent to the Asia De Cuba Restaurant. According to plaintiff, DiCaprio stood watching the assault and battery and smoking a cigarette. Ms. Tenzer also witnessed the attack.

Plaintiff maintains that the Morgans Hotel security guards did nothing to assist plaintiff, and even threatened to have him arrested. Plaintiff states that he only escaped from defendants by jumping into a passing taxi. In turn, Ferguson, Connelly, and Healy allegedly rushed into the Morgans Hotel and into the hotel elevators.

Charles Garelick, the managing director of GSS Security, states that his company had a standard contract with the Asia De Cuba Restaurant. Mr. Francis was the only employee on duty at the time of the incident, and was stationed at the front door. His duties were to assist the Asia de Cuba "door person" and door staff as guests were admitted to and exited the restaurant. According to Garelick, GSS Security never agreed to patrol the outside of the restaurant and was not responsible for the safety of any patrons.

Police Investigation After the Assault: Interview with Mr. DiCaprio and Other Witnesses.

Plaintiff states that he reported the attack to the New York City Police Department's 6th Precinct, where charges for assault were filed. Plaintiff spoke with New York City Police Detective George Wich, whom he knew from a prior unrelated matter. Wich told plaintiff that the assault took place outside his district. However, Wich opened a detective folder on the complaint in which he included a DD5 report, a police department form used to document the steps in an investigation.

Detective Wich interviewed security guard Francis, who told

Detective Wich and his partner that he [Francis] overheard DiCaprio tell a tall young man and the others at his table while inside the Asia De Cuba Restaurant to "Take him outside and kick his ass."

In September 1998, Detective Wich served defendant DiCaprio with a subpoena which directed him to come to the Manhattan District Attorney's Office, In October 1998, Wich and Assistant District Attorney Jane Illuzzi, interviewed DiCaprio. At the interview, Defendant DiCaprio told Detective Wich that he learned that plaintiff was coming to the restaurant, and that Ferguson and Laresca both called some friends on their cellular phone after learning that plaintiff was coming to the Restaurant. DiCaprio allegedly stated that Ferguson likes to act like a "tough guy."

According to Detective Wich, DiCaprio stated that when he stepped back inside to the lobby of the hotel to watch, he said to someone that "someone should kick this guy's ass," referring to plaintiff.

When Mr. DiCaprio was asked if he told anyone to hit or kick Roger's ass, defendant said that he did not, but also stated that "sometimes people take things he says the wrong way." Detective Wich states that he later prepared a draft of the DD5, from his hand written notes of the interview.

Detective Wich concluded that there was not sufficient evidence to arrest or charge Mr. DiCaprio with any crime.

DISCUSSION

New York specifically recognizes a cause of action for aiding and abetting an assault and battery (Steinberg v Goldstein, 27 AD2d 955, 956 [2d Dept 1967])). The elements of aiding and abetting are (1) a wrongful act producing an injury, (2) the defendant's awareness of a role as part of an overall illegal or tortious activity at the time he provides the assistance; and (3) the defendant's knowing and substantial assistance in the principal violation (see, Lindsay v Lockwood, 163 Misc2d 228, 233 [Sup Ct, Monroe County 1994], quoting Halberstam v Welch, 705 F2d 472, 477 [DC Cir 1983])).

In New York, liability under an aiding and abetting theory also "requires more than an intention; there must be some act on the part of the aider connected with the act causing the injury" (Lindsay v Lockwood, supra, 163 Misc 2d, at 233). In this State, the mere presence of a person when an assault and battery is committed by another, even though he mentally approves the same, but without encouragement of it by word or sign, is not sufficient of itself to charge him as a participator in the assault; he must in some way command, authorize, justify, or approve it (Steinberg v Goldstein, 51 Misc 2d 825, 826 [Sup Ct, NY County 1966], affd 27 AD2d 955 [2d Dept 1967], quoting 6 CJS Assault and Battery, § 27).

In affirming this Court's November 30, 1999 order sustaining the first cause of action alleging that defendant DiCaprio aided and abetted the others in an assault and battery upon plaintiff, the First Department held (Wilson v DiCaprio, 278 AD2d 25, 26 [1st Dept 2000]):

[t]he assertions of a close relationship between Mr. DiCaprio and the other persons involved, DiCaprio's shout to the group, "We'll go kick his ass," and the immediate reaction of the other members of the group to follow and assault plaintiff were sufficient allegations that DiCaprio encouraged the assault and that such encouragement was a substantial factor in causing the assault

This case of aiding and abetting an assault hinges on defendant DiCaprio's alleged statement to "go out there and kick his ass." DiCaprio has denied making the statement. Plaintiff Wilson did not hear such a statement nor did defendants Ferguson and Connelly. The source of the statement is from the security guard Francis who, in an interview with Detective Wich, said that he overheard DiCaprio make the statement to a tall young man and the others at his table.

Defendant DiCaprio argues that Francis' testimony is hearsay and that summary judgment may not be defeated by submission of such evidence if it is the only evidence submitted (Arnold v New York City Housing Authority, 296 AD2d 355 [1st Dept 2002]; Poluliah v Fidelity High Income Fund, 102 AD2d 720, 722-723 [1st Dept 1984]) see, Zuckerman v City of New York, 49 NY2d 557, 562 [1980]).

In New York "[a] declaration by a coconspirator during the course and in furtherance of the conspiracy is admissible against another coconspirator is an exception to the hearsay rule" (People v Wolf, 98 NY2d 105, 118 [2002], quoting People v Bac Tan, 80 NY2d 170, 179 [1992]). Moreover, a verbal act, which is part of the reg gestae necessary to establish the theory of acting in concert or aiding, is admissible as an exception to the hearsay rule (People v Ayala, 273 AD2d 40 [1st Dept], lv denied 95 NY2d 863 [2000]; cf., (People v Mixon, 292 AD2d 177, 178 [1st Dept], lv denied 98 NY2d 678 [2002] [direction given by one participant in crime to another is admissible]). Accordingly, we reject defendant's argument that Francis' testimony that he overheard DiCaprio make the statement inside the restaurant is inadmissible hearsay insufficient to defeat his motion for summary judgment.

The flaw in plaintiff's case is that defendant Healy, the assailant, did not hear the statement. Healy testified that he was never in the restaurant, that he came upon his group outside the restaurant, and that he decked plaintiff, allegedly in self defense. There is no evidence to the contrary. If Healy did not hear the inciting statement, or act pursuant to its command, then DiCaprio's alleged statement at the table inside the restaurant does not fit the requirements necessary to support an aiding and abetting cause of action: it did not encourage Healy's assault, nor was it a substantial factor in causing the assault (see, Wilson v Dicaprio, supra, 278 AD2d, at 26).

Plaintiff does not argue that Healy was the unidentified man whom Mr. Francis saw at the table inside the restaurant, and to whom DiCaprio allegedly made the statement. Mr. Francis described a slender man with dark hair, conservatively dressed "wearing something like a polo shirt, a jockey shirt." Healy, a blond, weighing 200 pounds was wearing a flannel shirt, paratrooper boots, and very short cropped hair. Moreover, Mr. Francis knew the unidentified man to be part of defendant DiCaprio's group since he had seen him several times with DiCaprio in the restaurant. Healy said that he may have met DiCaprio once before.

Plaintiff argues, however, that DiCaprio's statement caused a "mob scene" outside the restaurant which led to Healy's assault and that a jury could reasonably infer that DiCaprio's alleged statement caused the assault. This scenario does not fit the facts. Ferguson claims that he had not heard DiCaprio's statement when he left the restaurant to follow plaintiff outside. Assuming he had, Ferguson, despite his animosity towards plaintiff, did not assault him. At worst he put up his dukes and traded dares.

Connelly admittedly called Healy to meet him at the restaurant. Assuming Connelly called Healy solely for the purpose of asking Healy to act as "back up," a phone call summoning help by someone other than DiCaprio breaks the connection between DiCaprio's alleged statement and the "immediate reaction" which has to follow, namely the assault, in order to support a cause of action of aiding and abetting an assault (Wilson v DiCaprio, supra, 278 AD2d, at 26; Fariello v City of New York Bd. of Educ., 199 AD2d 461, 463 [2d Dept 1993]; Shea v Cornell University, 192 AD2d 857, 858 [3d Dept 1993]).

There is no evidence that at the scene outside the restaurant either Mr. Ferguson or Mr. Connelly urged Mr. Healy to attack plaintiff once Mr. Healy arrived. Plaintiff does not state that any of the defendants who surrounded him urged Healy to strike him. To the contrary, plaintiff testified that defendants Ferguson and Connelly helped to restrain Healy and break up the fight. These actions are inconsistent with plaintiff's claim that these two defendants conspired with Mr. Healy and Mr. DiCaprio to commit an assault and battery at the instigation of Mr. DiCaprio.

Defendant DiCaprio's words and actions were not the proximate cause of plaintiff's injuries (see, Radlin v Brenner, 286 AD2d 881, 897 [4th Dept 2001]). Healy did not hear DiCaprio's statement; he acted independently, arguably misreading the posturing of Ferguson (with his dukes up) and the other defendants. A jury cannot be permitted to speculate that it was an "immediate reaction" to DiCaprio's words that Healy chose to assault plaintiff (see, Zuckerman v City of New York, 49 NY2d 557, 562 [1980]).

Accordingly, defendant DiCaprio's cross motion and the cross motions of defendants Ferguson and Connelly, which seek to dismiss the remainder of the first cause of action for aiding and abetting an assault and battery and all cross claims, are granted⁴

Asia De Cuba Restaurant and the Dram Shop Act

Charlie Irons, the Director of Food and Beverages stated that the Asia de Cuba Restaurant had a verbal policy not to serve intoxicated individuals, whom he described as having hazy eyes, impaired speech and uncoordinated manner. Wait staff are told they cannot serve intoxicated guests and that they are to notify the manager if such a person asks for a drink.

Plaintiff argues that there is ample proof that co-defendants ⁴In the November 1999 order, this court dismissed plaintiff's claims against DiCaprio for assault battery under the theory of a concerted action and the entire second cause of action for infliction of emotional distress. As for Ferguson and Connelly, this court's July 2001 order dismissed plaintiff's second cause of action for infliction of emotion distress and that portion of the assault and battery claim based on the theory of concerted action.

DiCaprio, Ferguson and Connelly were intoxicated, and that defendant Asia De Cuba Restaurant continued to serve these defendants alcoholic beverages. Plaintiff testified that defendants Ferguson and DiCaprio looked drunk. In addition, plaintiff observed many cocktail glasses and bottles of wine at the table as well as drinks in the hands of DiCaprio and Connelly while standing outside the restaurant. In addition, plaintiff submits the testimony of an expert witness Cory Hill, who states that he is a manager of bar and a certified trainer in "T.I.P.E.S.", (Training For Intervention Procedures) and is an expert in detecting the signs of intoxication. According to Mr. Hill, he reviewed the testimony and states that DiCaprio, Connelly and Ferguson exhibited the signs of an intoxicated person. Mr. Hill also states that the number of glasses on the table also indicated heavy drinking.

Mr. Hill was not an eye witness to defendants' demeanor, is not a medical doctor, and has no special expertise on the effect of alcoholism on the body (Adamy v Ziriakus, 92 NY2d 396, 402 [1998]; Roman v Stanley, 90 NY2d 244, 451 [1997]; see, Jones v Kelly, 201 AD2d 536 [2d Dept 1994]). Mr. Hill also is unable to offer any evidence as to whether the restaurant staff actually served alcohol to visibly intoxicated persons on the night in question (Roy v Volonio, 262 AD2d 546, 547 [2d Dept], lv denied 94 NY2d [1999]; see, Senn v Scudieri, 165 AD2d 346 [1st Dept 1991]; General Obligations Law § 11-101).

Even if plaintiff could eventually prove that the restaurant improperly served drinks to intoxicated patrons, defendants DiCaprio, Connelly and Ferguson, who were allegedly dining and drinking in the restaurant and carrying drinks outside, did not strike plaintiff. Mr. Healy, the one who hit plaintiff (allegedly in self-defense), never entered the Asia De Cuba Restaurant nor took a drink from the restaurant's bar. Plaintiff does not even state that his assailant was drunk. There is no evidence that the Asia De Cuba Restaurant violated the Dram Shop Act and that branch of the restaurant's cross motion to dismiss is granted⁵.

Accordingly, the remaining branches of Asia De Cuba's Restaurant cross motion for summary judgment and for an order dismiss the complaint against and all cross claims raised against it are granted.

Accordingly, it is Ordered that the Asia De Cuba's motion for summary judgment is granted and the complaint and all cross claims against this defendant are severed and dismissed; and it is further

ORDERED that the cross motions of defendants DiCaprio, Ferguson, and Connelly for summary judgment are granted for the reasons stated herein; the remaining portion of the first cause of action for aiding and abetting an assault is severed and dismissed against all defendants. All cross claims against these defendants are also dismissed; and it is further

ORDERED that the remainder of complaint against Todd Healy

⁵Plaintiff has withdrawn all claims against Asia de Cuba Restaurant for failure to provide security.

continues; and it is further

ORDERED that the remaining parties are directed to appear for a conference on November 5, 2004 at 11 a.m. at 71 Thomas Street, Room 205, New York, N.Y.

DATED: September 23 2004

ENTER:

PAULA J. OMANSKY
J.S.C.

FILED
SEP 29 2004
NEW YORK
COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE